To whom it may concern

Freshwater Place residential building is a premium apartment building in Melbourne and we are always searching for the latest products to save energy and running cost. We employed Best Practice Lighting to replace all our old Halogen globes with LED equivalents and all fluorescent tubes in the 9 levels car park with LED motion sensors tubes. We chose Best Practice Lighting after talking to other building and facility managers who told us they were professional, knowledgeable and extremely helpful. At all times they ensured that the impact on residents and businesses was minimal. Andrew Gowan the owner is well informed about the latest products on the market and where they can be used.
